Looking back at “The Best We’ve Seen in 2016”

Each year when camp is done and fall settles in, I finally have time to reflect on the summer we’ve just experienced together. For each of us the experience is different. For the first time parent, you learned that your daughter was stronger and more independent than you thought. For the first time camper, you met new friends, had many “firsts” and gained a second home. For parents sending returning campers, you were sad to see them go, but knew in your heart there was no better place for your daughter to be than at Agawak. For the returning camper, anticipation turned to exhilaration then to sadness as the summer approached, arrived and then ended. For me, I think back to my wonderful staff, the cheers of Blue & White, the vast achievements of many and wonder where the time went. For most of us, we have one thing in common.....we are counting down the days until next summer!

Thank you for all the memories! - Mary

Reunions, Get-togethers, and Fairs, Oh my!

The off season is never downtime for Mary, Suzi or Chris. Travel, recruiting and visiting is in full swing which began with Mary making a trip to Indiana on Sept. 29 (see back page for pictures). Mary had lots fun visiting with the Indiana crowd and a big thank you to the Maurer family for hosting! It was especially nice, but not surprising, to see how welcoming everyone was to Campbell Kirsh who will be a part of the Agawak family next summer.

Keep in mind, if you have a friend that would be interested in hearing more about camp, contact the office. Mary is willing to make home visits no matter where they live.

The NEW yearbooks are coming!

Some of you may be wondering, “Hmm, I didn’t get the yearbook I ordered!” Well, never fear, the upgraded yearbooks are on their way. They will be at the Chicago Reunion and for those not able to attend, we will mail them out to you at that time (Feb. 19). Big applause for our editors-in-chief, Abby Moeckler and Lindsay Fisher who did a great job. Thank you also to Suzi Pierce and Chris Garcia, who helped finish the project after camp. Campers, you will NOT be disappointed.

Hey look who's coming back....

- Spencer Weiss will be at the ski docks again next summer driving and instructing

The road to success is always under construction!

(and so is Agawak)

There are certain items on the maintenance checklist each fall: Turning off the water, taking out the tramps, pulling out the docks and boats, just to mention a very few. This year, our beautiful fall weather has been the perfect time to get a few extras done. A new practice wall on the tennis courts was built and painted. A mini-Agawak sign was placed where the road Y's leading up to the rec hall. A leaky Happy Camper Hall roof will get a fix before winter and new tramp pads will be arriving soon. Exteriors of Cabin X, KWAK and the Beach House all were painted. Also, this fall Cabins X, 1 and 2 will have their inside walls refinished. Eventually all the cabins will have their inside walls looking shiny and new. Don't worry the plaques with camper names dating back to 1921 will be preserved and re-hung on the walls. Next summer, everyone will also enjoy a new BLOB! Our old blob that lasted 20 years sadly developed an unfixable leak. Our new blob has already arrived and is waiting to launch you into Blue Lake.

Do you ever wonder what's under the tramps?

Nope, I just like to smile and bounce!
